

Confirmation of policy details when signing any documents

Small and Medium Enterprise Operator	I've just bought an insurance plan
	I found that the name of the handling agent on my policy is different from the one I know Will there be any problem?
Smart tips for policy holders
Narrator	The handling agent who signs your policy must be the same person who explains it to you because he takes care of your policy and assists you in filing claims So you should ensure the information is correct before signing to protect your interests
